This instruction establishes the 926th Fighter Wing (FW) Commander and Command Chief Master Sergeant coin award programs and establishes guidelines for additional unit programs in conjunction with Air Force Instruction (AFI) 36-2805, Special Trophies and Awards, and any functional AFIs. A coin award program is designed to provide recognition to personnel for personal efforts and superior performance directly contributing to mission accomplishment, in a manner not covered by the 926th Fighter Wing Awards Program. This publication applies to the 926th Fighter Wing.

1. 926 FW Recognition and Appreciation Coin.

1.1. This program provides the 926 FW Commander, Vice Commander, and the Command Chief Master Sergeant with an informal means to show special recognition to individuals that have contributed to the 926 FW and have merited immediate recognition. This program will follow guidelines previously established in AFI 36-2805, AFI 36-1001, Managing the Civilian Performance Program, and AFI 65-601V1, Budget Guidance and Procedures.

1.2. The 926 FW Commander's coin will be presented by the Commander, Vice Commander, or Command Chief Master Sergeant to assigned military and civilian employees, who, by their dedicated individual effort, have facilitated the successful accomplishment of a particular program, function, task, or mission, in accordance with AFI 65-601V1, para 4.29.2.

1.2.1. Coins may not be used as personal or commemorative gifts, souvenirs, tokens of exchange in games, or as morale-builders unrelated to special achievements.

1.2.2. Coins may not be given to non-appropriated funds employees or used as tokens of appreciation for government officials, foreign officials or non-federal personnel in recognition of general support or improved community relations.

2. Privately-Funded Coins.

2.1. Coins purchased with personal or private funds do not fall under the limitations of this instruction.
