This instruction supplements AFI 36-2817, Civil Engineer Awards Program. It establishes a program to award Air National Guard (ANG) installations, Civil Engineer (CE) organizations, flights, teams, and individuals for outstanding achievement and contributions to the Air Force (AF) and ANG mission. It describes the criteria for each award, establishes eligibility, and explains nomination, selection, and presentation procedures.

Chapter 1

NOMINATION AND SELECTION PROCEDURES

1.1. ANG CE Awards. The Air National Guard Civil Engineer (ANG CE) annually recognizes CE organizations and personnel for outstanding achievement. These units and individuals are then forwarded to compete for recognition at the AF level. Several AF level awards include categories that are specifically for air reserve component (ARC) nominees. These awards will be highlighted in this document for special emphasis. This document does not replace AFI 36-2817 but supplements it and clarifies its applicability to the ANG.

1.2. General Nominating Procedures:

1.2.1. Organizations that have installations, units, groups, squadrons, flights, teams or individuals eligible for awards may submit one nomination for each award category. Military in all statuses are eligible - traditional, technician, Active Guard and Reserve (AGR), and statutory tour. Department of Defense (DoD) civilians and state employees may be nominated for all awards, if eligible. Contractors, as outlined in DoD 1400.25-M, Defense Logistics Management System (DLMS), Subchapter 451, Section 'O', "Contractors," are not eligible for any awards pertaining to this instruction. For unit and individual awards, the previous year's winner is not eligible in the current year competition. This restriction does not apply to Design Awards and Environmental Awards.

1.2.2. Award nomination formats and criteria are as outlined in AFI 36-2817. Additional guidance on completing your nomination is as follows:

1.2.2.1. The indicated headings for each award must be included in the text. Place each heading on a separate line, flush left, using upper and lower case, bold face type, with no period or colon at the end of the line. Headings may be shortened or combined, as deemed appropriate.

1.2.2.2. Use bullet statement format. Start each bullet with a hyphen symbol, followed by a single space. Begin the text of each bullet with a capital letter. Use no punctuation (period, etc.) at the end of the bullet. If a bullet carries over to a second line, start the second line flush left, under the hyphen symbol for the line above. Be sure each bullet is placed under the appropriate heading.

1.2.2.3. Factual information, supported by appropriate examples and statistics, is most effective. Avoid the use of "glittering generalities" that attempt to make up for a lack of factual information.

1.2.2.4. For optimum results, use all lines of the IMT. Blank lines imply either weak justification or lack of diligence in preparation thereby diminishing the effectiveness of the nomination. Use active voice and strong verbs, rather than excessive adjectives, to convey what was done and its effects. Be specific. Describe clearly and in detail what the nominee did and the actual results.

1.2.3. Submittal requirements for all ANG nominations are outlined in ANGI 36-2802, Air National Guard Special Awards and Trophies. No unit is authorized to submit nomination packages directly to the Air Force or AF agencies. The staffing process at ANG takes time so the deadlines for submittal to ANG will be several weeks prior to the deadlines listed in AFI 36-2817 and the AF call letter.

1.2.4. Per the requirements in ANGI 36-2802, the Adjutant General of the state must sign the transmittal letter for each respective nomination package competing for an AF level award.

1.2.5. Send the original transmittal letter, with the nomination packages, to ANG Director Diversity, Personnel and Training, Personnel Force Management, Customer Operations Section (ANG/DPFOC), 1411 Jefferson Davis Highway, Arlington, VA 22202 and electronically to the e-mail address provided in the call letter. The one exception is the Design Awards, which must be submitted electronically to Air Force Center for Environmental Excellence (AFCEE) per Chapter 4 of this instruction. You may submit multiple nominations in the same major program under one letter. The four major programs are Unit and Individual Awards, Design Awards, Environmental Awards and Fire and Emergency Services Awards.

1.2.6. All nominations are submitted on the AF IMT 1206 , Nomination for Award. Packages that are submitted in hard copy should include a 3.5 inch diskette with all AF IMT 1206s. Packages submitted by e-mail should include a scanned version (.pdf file) of the transmittal letters and the AF IMT 1206s. Most awards are limited to one-page, but some allow a two-page nomination. Pay close attention to the individual award requirements to insure you complete the correct number of pages.

1.3. Selecting Award Winners:

1.3.1. The ANG CE (convening authority) appoints a panel of at least four members to evaluate the nominations received for each award.

1.3.2. The panel selects the winner and, when applicable, a runner-up. These are submitted to the convening authority for final approval.

1.3.3. Chief, Air National Guard (NGB/CF) announces all winners of awards going forward to compete at the AF level. Award notification messages will be addressed to the Adjutant Generals and Wing Commanders. Individuals will be notified by letter from NGB/CF of their selection or non-selection per the procedures outlined in ANGI 36-2802.

1.4. Presenting Awards:

1.4.1. The ANG CE will present unit, individual and design awards at the next scheduled Installations Conference or, if it occurs earlier, at the CE Contingency Workshop. Environmental awards will be presented at the next scheduled Environmental Conference. Fire and Emergency Services awards will be presented at the annual Fire Conference.

1.4.2. ANG units/individuals selected as the Air Force winner in their category will typically receive their award from The Civil Engineer at a luncheon held in Washington, DC during National Engineers Week (usually in February). Award winners and unit leadership are authorized to travel on government orders at the unit's expense to attend this luncheon. Invitational orders may be authorized for a spouse to attend also, at the unit's expense.

Chapter 2

OUTSTANDING CIVIL ENGINEER UNIT AND FLIGHT AWARDS

2.1. The Air Force Outstanding Civil Engineer Unit Awards:

2.1.1. Purpose and Description of Awards. This award is known as the William L. Deneke Award within the ANG. The ANG Deneke winner each year will be forwarded to the AF to compete against the Air Force Reserve Command (AFRC) Outstanding Unit of the Year for recognition as the AF Outstanding Unit of the Year – ARC Category.

2.1.2. Eligibility for Awards. All primary civil engineer squadrons are eligible for this award. Geographically separated units (GSUs) will not be considered on their own merit. Achievements at a GSU should be included in the package submitted by the host.

2.1.3. Criteria for Air Reserve Component units. Submit nominations according to AFI 36-2817, Attachment 2, with the exception of Note 7. All nominations will be sent to the addresses listed in Attachment 2 of this instruction. Accomplishments are for the preceding fiscal year (fiscal year 2003 accomplishments are submitted in October 2003). Additional clarification of the criteria in AFI 36-2817 is as follows:

2.1.3.1. Expeditionary Engineering. Include information on deployments for training as well as your deployments supporting contingency operations in this area.

2.1.3.2. Installation Engineering. While state employees and contractors can not be recognized individually, their contributions to your overall effort to operate and maintain the base should be included under this heading.

2.1.3.3. Environmental Leadership. Even if the environmental manager does not work for the base civil engineer (BCE) you should include the accomplishments with regard to the environment under this heading. Clearly define the aspects of the achievements that were supported by the BCE organization.

2.1.3.4. Emergency Services. Clearly indicate whether you have an explosive ordnance disposal (EOD) function in your unit or not.

2.1.4. The ANG award selection panel will select winners according to Paragraph 1.3. In addition to your nomination package, the ANG selection panel will review your status of resources and training system report, execution statistics for military construction (MILCON), sustainment, restoration and modernization (SRM), and facility operations and maintenance agreement (FOMA), real property records and open notices of violation (NOVs) and open enforcement actions (OEA's). No site visit will be conducted for the Deneke or the AF Outstanding Unit Award – ARC category.

2.2. The Brigadier General Michael A. McAuliffe Award:

2.2.1. Eligibility. ANG units are not eligible for this award.

2.3. The Major General Robert C. Thompson Award:

2.3.1. Eligibility. ANG units are not eligible for this award.

2.4. The Brigadier General Archie S. Mayes Award:

2.4.1. Eligibility. ANG units may submit nominations for this award, but there is no ARC category. Nomination packages must be completed based on the criteria outlined in AFI 36-2817 and will compete with all active duty units. If more than one ANG nomination is received for this award, the most qualified will be forwarded to the Air Force. No separate ANG recognition will be made.

2.5. The Major General Clifton D. Wright Award:

2.5.1. Eligibility. ANG units may submit nominations for this award, but there is no ARC category. Nomination packages must be completed based on the criteria outlined in AFI 36-2817 and will compete with all active duty units. If more than one ANG nomination is received for this award, the most qualified will be forwarded to the Air Force. No separate ANG recognition will be made.

2.6. The Chief Master Sergeant Ralph E. Sanborn Award:

2.6.1. Purpose and Description of Awards. This award is known as the Outstanding Fire Department of the Year Award for the ANG. The ANG winner each year will be forwarded to the AF to compete against all other Major Command (MAJCOM) nominees for recognition with the Chief Master Sergeant (CMSgt) Sanborn Award. The AF winner will automatically be forwarded to compete for recognition in the DoD competition as outlined in Chapter 7 of this instruction.

2.6.2. Eligibility for Awards. All primary fire departments are eligible for this award. Geographically separated units (GSUs) will not be considered on their own merit. Achievements at a GSU should be included in the package submitted by the host.

2.6.3. Criteria for Air Reserve Component units. Submit nominations according to Attachment 2 of AFI 36-2817 with the exception of Note 7. All nominations will be sent to the addresses listed in Attachment 2 of this instruction. Accomplishments are for the preceding fiscal year. Take special note that this award should be submitted on plain bond paper, not the AF IMT 1206.

2.7. The Senior Master Sergeant Gerald J. Stryzak Award:

2.7.1. Eligibility. ANG units may submit nominations for this award, but there is no ARC category. Nomination packages must be completed based on the criteria outlined in AFI 36-2817 and will compete with all active duty units. If more than one ANG nomination is received for this award, the most qualified will be forwarded to the Air Force. No separate ANG recognition will be made.

2.8. The Colonel Frederick J. Riemer Award:

2.8.1. Purpose and Description of Awards. This award is known as the Outstanding Readiness Program Award within the ANG. The ANG winner of this award each year will be forwarded to the AF to compete against the AFRC Outstanding Readiness Program of the Year for recognition with the AF Reimer Award – ARC Category.

2.8.2. Eligibility. All primary ANG units with deployable unit type codes (UTCs) are eligible for this award. GSUs will not be considered on their own merit. Achievements at a GSU should be included in the package submitted by the host.

2.8.3. Criteria for Air Reserve Component units. Submit nominations according to Attachment 2 of AFI 36-2817 with the exception of Note 7. All nominations will be sent to the addresses listed in Attachment 2 of this instruction. Additional clarification of the criteria in AFI 36-2817 is as follows:

2.8.3.1. Unit Mission. Self explanatory.

2.8.3.2. Training. Include any information pertaining to attendance at Silver Flag, regional training sites or deployments for training under this heading.

2.8.3.3. Inspections. Include any information pertaining to completion of self-inspection checklists under this heading.

2.8.3.4. Self-Improvement. Include any information pertaining to local training projects done on base or in the local community under this heading.

2.9. The Air Force Outstanding Civil Engineer Environmental Flight Award:

2.9.1. Eligibility. ANG units may submit nominations for this award, but there is no ARC category. Nomination packages must be completed based on the criteria outlined in AFI 36-2817 and will compete with all active duty units. If more than one ANG nomination is received for this award, the most qualified will be forwarded to the Air Force. No separate ANG recognition will be made.

Chapter 3

AIR FORCE CIVIL ENGINEER OUTSTANDING INDIVIDUAL AWARDS

3.1. The Harry P. Rietman Award:

3.1.1. Eligibility. ANG units that have Title 5 civilians may submit an individual for this award, but there is no ARC category. Nomination packages must be completed based on the criteria outlined in AFI 36-2817 and will compete with all active duty nominations. If more than one ANG nomination is received for this award, the most qualified will be forwarded to the Air Force. No separate ANG recognition will be made.

3.2. The Major General Eugene A. Lupia Awards (Formerly The Outstanding Civil Engineer Manager of the Year Awards, Military Manager and Military Technician):

3.2.1. Eligibility. ANG members are not eligible for this award. All ANG military members should compete under The Outstanding Civil Engineer Manager of the Year – ARC Categories as outlined in Paragraph 3.3.

3.3. The Outstanding Civil Engineer Manager of the Year Awards:

3.3.1. Purpose and Description of Awards. This award is known as the Outstanding Civil Engineering Manager Award within the ANG. The ANG winners in each category (Officer, Senior Noncommissioned Officer (SNCO), and Noncommissioned Officer {NCO}) each year will be forwarded to the AF to compete against the AFRC Outstanding Civil Engineering Manager of the Year for recognition with the AF Outstanding Civil Engineering Manager of the Year – ARC Category.

3.3.2. Eligibility for Awards. ANG technicians should compete under their military status in the ARC categories, not under their GS equivalent status in the civilian categories. AGR and traditional members also compete under the appropriate military category.

3.3.3. Criteria for Air Reserve Component Individuals. Submit nominations according to AFI 36-2817, Attachment 2, with the exception of Note 7. All nominations will be sent to the addresses listed in Attachment 2 of this instruction.

3.4. The Major General Joseph A. Ahearn Enlisted Leadership Award:

3.4.1. Eligibility. ANG units that have a CMSgt may submit the individual for this award, but there is no ARC category. Nomination packages must be completed based on the criteria outlined in AFI 36-2817 and will compete with all active duty nominations. If more than one ANG nomination is received for this award, the most qualified will be forwarded to the Air Force. No separate ANG recognition will be made.

3.5. The Major General William D. Gilbert Awards:

3.5.1. Purpose and Description of Awards. This award is known as the Outstanding Civil Engineering Staff Action Officer of the Year Award within the ANG. The ANG winner in each category will be forwarded to the AF to compete against all other MAJCOM nominations for recognition with the Maj Gen Gilbert Award in their respective category.

3.5.2. Eligibility for Awards. Permanent members of the ANG Civil Engineer staff are eligible for this award. Nominations are made by ANG/CE Division Chiefs with final approval by the ANG CE.

3.6. The Major General Augustus M. Minton Award:

3.6.1. Eligibility. ANG members who have contributed articles to the Air Force Civil Engineer Magazine will compete equally with all other contributing writers. There is no ARC category and there will be no separate ANG recognition.

3.7. Air Force Outstanding Individual Community Planner of the Year:

3.7.1. Eligibility. ANG units that have eligible personnel may submit an individual for this award, but there is no ARC category. Nomination packages must be completed based on the criteria outlined in AFI 36-2817 and will compete with all active duty nominations. If more than one ANG nomination is received for this award, the most qualified will be forwarded to the Air Force. No separate ANG recognition will be made.

3.8. The Chief Master Sergeant Larry R. Daniels Award (Formerly the Outstanding Civil Engineer Military Superintendent of the Year Award):

3.8.1. Eligibility. ANG members are not eligible for this award. All ANG military members should compete under The Outstanding Civil Engineer Manager of the Year – ARC Categories as outlined in Paragraph 3.3.

Chapter 4

AIR FORCE DESIGN AND CONSTRUCTION AWARDS

4.1. The Air Force Design Excellence Awards:

4.1.1. Eligibility for Award. ANG units may submit individuals for this award, but there is no ARC category. Nomination packages must be completed based on the criteria outlined in AFI 36-2817 and will compete with all active duty units. If more than one ANG nomination is received for this award, the most qualified will be forwarded to the Air Force. No separate ANG recognition will be made.

4.2. The Air Force Design Awards:

4.2.1. Purpose and Description of Awards. The design awards program recognizes and encourages design excellence in ANG planning and architectural design. The purpose of the ANG Design Awards Program is to publicize and recognize projects that have achieved design excellence as it relates to the natural and built environment. Three levels of awards are given: the Honor Award, Merit Award, and Citation Award. The Honor Award is the highest of the three. There are no annual quotas as to the number of awards given, neither is there a ranking of winners within any of the award levels. Each entry competes on its own merit. The United States Air Force (USAF) and ANG Design Awards run concurrently due to all submissions being uploaded on the AFCEE Design Awards web site, <http://www.afcee.brooks.af.mil/products/awards/design/index.asp>.

4.2.2. Eligibility for Awards. There are three categories of awards.

4.2.2.1. Type A – Planning Studies and Design Guides: These include Comprehensive Plans, Area Development Plans, Design Guides, etc. The planning study or design guide must be 100 percent complete, but the recommendations made by the study may be at any stage of implementation. Entries will be judged on thoroughness, quality of presentation, and validity of recommendations.

4.2.2.2. Type C – Concept Design: Projects submitted under this category may be at any stage of design, but not constructed. When constructed, these entries will be eligible for entry in Type F category. Entries will be judged on the degree to which programming requirements were met, uniqueness of the design solution, constructability, and compatibility with other facilities on the installation.

4.2.2.3. Type F – Facility Design: Projects submitted under this category must be 100 percent constructed, furnished, and landscaped as applicable. This is a broad category, which includes engineering or industrial projects, architectural design projects, and additions, alterations, or combinations thereof. Entries will be judged on the degree to which programming requirements were met, uniqueness of the design solution, compatibility with other facilities on the installation, the sustainable aspects of the design, and composite integration of architectural, engineering, interior design, and landscape design, and construction execution, as applicable. Do not enter any facility if the final construction cost exceeds the programmed amount (PA). This will be verified by ANG/CEC.

4.2.3. Nomination Procedures and Criteria:

4.2.3.1. The annual call letter from AFCEE contains specific submission requirements.

4.2.3.2. Submittals may be developed by any unit involved with the design or construction of the ANG project. Submit all nominations to the AFCEE Design Awards web site:

<http://www.afcee.brooks.af.mil/products/awards/design/index.asp>. All entries submitted through the web site will be reviewed by Air National Guard Civil Engineer, Engineering Division (ANG/CEC) and are not officially accepted until approved by ANG/CEC.

4.2.3.3. There are no age or cost limitations for ANG Design Awards program entries. There is no limit to the number of times a project may be submitted for competition; however, an entry cannot concurrently compete in more than one category with one exception. Type C - Concept Design entries, may only win an award once. A Type C award winner may be submitted again in another category for which it may qualify after construction. Careful consideration should be given to resubmitting an entry without upgrading the quality of the entry package.

4.2.4. Selection and Presentation. In addition to AF recognition, ANG has a similar jury and those winning entries will receive an Air National Guard Awards Certificate to be presented at an appropriate forum.

4.3. The Air Force Civilian Project Manager of the Year Awards:

4.3.1. Eligibility for Awards. ANG members are not eligible for this award.

4.4. The Air Force District, Division, or Host Nation Agent of the Year Awards:

4.4.1. Eligibility for Awards. ANG members are not eligible for this award.

Chapter 5

AIR FORCE ENVIRONMENTAL AWARDS

5.1. Purpose and Description of Awards. The ANG Environmental Awards program recognizes Air National Guard installations, organizations and individuals for exceptional achievement in preservation, protection and restoration of the environment. It fosters an environmental awareness and stewardship culture among members of the Air National Guard, and within the communities where they live and work.

5.2. General Nominating Procedures:

5.2.1. Only ANG military and civilian personnel whose primary duties are in environmental or environmentally related career fields are eligible for nomination. The only exception is the Air National Guard Award for Voluntary Environmental Achievement.

5.2.2. Each organization having an environmental manager (EM) or bioenvironmental engineer (BEE) office may submit one nomination for each of the applicable awards. Submit only one nomination (Individual or Team) in each of the Individual/Team categories. ANG military and civilian personnel are eligible to be nominated for individual awards. In a team award, one or more, but not all, of the members of the team may be contractor or state employees; the other team members must be ANG military or civilian personnel.

5.2.3. ANG units may be nominated in each category on an annual basis. Packages may be forwarded to the AF for competition at the level as appropriate to the year and category.

5.2.4. Nominations will be submitted in electronic format, either by e-mail or on 3.5 inch diskette. One page nominations use the front page only of the current electronic version of AF IMT 1206. Two page nominations can use the front and back of the IMT. Do not include additional pages or attachments. If submitting via e-mail, include a scanned copy of the transmittal letter and the completed AF IMT 1206 and send package to the e-mail addressee identified in the annual call letter and guidance package.

5.2.5. All nominations must be approved by the appropriate organizational commander or a designated representative. Submission of an indorsement can be as an e-mail message from the organization commander or a designated representative to indicate their concurrence with the submission.

5.2.6. General guidance on completing the AF IMT 1206 as shown in Table 5.1.

Table 5.1. Completing AF IMT 1206.

Block	General Guidance
1.	Award:	Enter title of the award from the list below
2	Category:	Enter Installation, Individual or Team
3	Award Period.	Typically a two-year nomination. Example: 1 October 2001 - 30 September 2003 for awards submitted at the end of FY03
4	Rank/Name of Nominee.	For installation awards leave blank. For individual or team awards, enter appropriate information for individual(s).
5	SSN:	Leave blank
6	MAJCOM:	ANG
7	DAFSC/Duty Title.	For installation awards, leave blank. For individual awards, enter duty Air Force Specialty Code (AFSC) (if applicable) and duty title. For team awards, enter name of the team.
8	Telephone (DSN and Commercial):	Self explanatory.

10	Rank/Name/Telephone of Unit Commander:	Self explanatory
11	Specific Accomplishments.	See Paragraph 1.2.2. of this instruction.

5.3. Selection and Presentation.

5.3.1. Air National Guard Civil Engineer, Environmental Division (ANG/CEV) will appoint a panel to judge the nominations and select the ANG winners. All units will be notified of the results as soon as the information is releasable. Deserving nominations will be forwarded for Air Force level competition unless the award is ANG unique as indicated in the details below.

5.3.2. Awards will be presented during the annual ANG Environmental Workshop.

5.4. The General Thomas D. White Environmental Quality Award (Industrial, Non-Industrial, and Reserve Component including Air National Guard):

5.4.1. Purpose and Description of Award. This award is also known as the Air National Guard Environmental Quality Award – Reserve Component. The ANG winner each year will be forwarded to the AF to compete against all other Reserve Component nominees for recognition with the General Thomas D. White Award.

5.4.2. Nomination Procedures and Criteria. Submit nominations according to AFI 36-2817, Attachment 2, with the exception of Note 7. 7.4.2. Eligibility for Awards. All military (technician, AGR, or traditional) and civilians (Title 5 or state employee) who are DoD certified from the Fire Officer II through the Fire Officer IV levels.

7.4.3. Criteria for Air Reserve Component Individuals. Submit nominations according to AFI 36-2817, Attachment 2, with the exception of Note 7. All nominations will be sent to the addresses listed in Attachment 2 of this instruction. Take special note that this award is submitted on plain bond paper, not the AF IMT 1206. Also note that the timeframe for this award is the calendar year, not the fiscal year. Nominations for this award will generally be due in March of each year for accomplishments in the preceding calendar year.

7.5. The DoD Fire Fighter of the Year Heroism Award (Individual or Team Award):

7.5.1. Purpose and Description of Award. This award is rarely justified. In the case that an individual would qualify, contact ANG Civil Engineer, Readiness Division (ANG/CEXF) directly for guidance.

7.6. Nomination Procedures:

7.6.1. All ANG nominations will be submitted to the address shown in Attachment 2 of this instruction. Nominations for the CMSgt Sanborn, as outlined in Paragraph 2.6. above, are due in the fall with the other AF level CE awards. Individual fire fighter nominations will be due in the spring under a separate call letter.

7.7. Format and Inclusive Dates:

7.7.1. Take special note that the format for fire fighter awards is plain bond paper and that the inclusive dates are the calendar year.

7.8. Selection Process:

7.8.1. Selection of the ANG winner in each category will be as outlined in Paragraph 1.3. of this instruction.

7.9. Award Presentations. Presentations to ANG winners in each of the fire categories will be made at the annual Fire Conference. If an ANG unit or individual is selected as the DoD award winners, the unit and unit leadership will be authorized to travel on government orders at the unit's expense to attend the DoD ceremony. Invitational orders may be authorized for a spouse to attend also, at the unit's expense.
