This instruction implements AFD 36-20, Accession of Air Force Military Personnel, by establishing procedures for managing the USAF Academy (USAFA) Cadet Awards Program through the Cadet Awards Council (CAC) and the Cadet Awards Branch (HQ USAFA/XPAC) of the Directorate of Plans and Programs. It governs all responsibilities and procedures pertaining to organizational, individual, and specialty awards and defines criteria for selecting award winners and applies to all USAFA organizations dealing with cadet awards. It requires collecting and maintaining information protected by the Privacy Act of 1974 authorized by Title 10, United States Code, Chapter 903, United States Air Force Academy (USAFA). System of Records notice F036 USAFA L, Cadet Awards Files, applies.

SUMMARY OF REVISIONS

Updates membership of the CAC. Removes all references to the Athletic Awards Ceremony and the Western Athletic Conference. Also updates current awards and defines selection criteria. A bar (|) indicates revisions from the previous edition.

1. Program References:

- 1.1. Headquarters USAF (AFPTR) letter, Air Force Academy Cadet Awards Program, 16 March 1960.
- 1.2. General Order Number 13, Headquarters USAFA, 15 May 1959.

2. Why USAFA Has a Cadet Awards Program. The USAFA Cadet Awards Program offers incentives to USAFA cadets for higher achievements in academic, athletic, leadership, military training, and related activities; it rewards these achievements materially and through public recognition. The awards foster unit and individual competition and enhance morale.

3. Who Comprises the Cadet Awards Council (CAC) and What It Does:

3.1. The CAC meets quarterly and consists of the following members appointed by the Superintendent, who also designates the Chairperson:

- 3.1.1. One representative from the Dean of Faculty (HQ USAFA/DF).
- 3.1.2. One representative from the 34th Training Wing (34 TRW/CC).
- 3.1.3. One representative from the Directorate of Athletics (HQ USAFA/AH).
- 3.1.4. One representative from the Directorate of Plans and Programs (HQ USAFA/XP). The Development and Alumni Programs Division will provide administrative support for the Council.
- 3.1.5. One representative from the Association of Graduates (AOG).

3.2. The CAC advises the Superintendent (HQ USAFA/CC) on all aspects of coordination and administration of the USAFA Cadet Awards Program. It establishes procedures (subject to the Superintendent's approval) and coordinates guidelines for establishing and administering cadet awards. It recommends approval or disapproval on any request for a cadet award to memorialize or honor an individual. It designates one member to serve as a voting member of the USAFA Memorial Board.

4. How USAFA Establishes Awards:

4.1. The CAC, through HQ USAFA/XPAC, evaluates all proposed cadet awards and forwards to the Superintendent a recommendation for approval or disapproval of all organizational or individual cadet awards. The CAC evaluates and approves appropriate specialty awards. Activities or individuals desiring to establish a cadet award for any purpose must submit a written request to HQ USAFA/XPAC by 31 December if the presentation is to be made in that academic year.

4.2. A cadet award may be established to memorialize a deceased person who has made a significant contribution to air and space power or, in some other way, contributed to national defense. The next-of-kin must concur, and the USAFA Memorial Board must approve all such memorializations.

4.3. A cadet award may also be established to honor or recognize a living person or organization who has made a significant contribution or sacrifice to air and space power or, in some other way, contributed to national defense.

4.4. Whenever possible, deceased USAFA graduates receive priority in memorializations to honor individuals whose records reflect outstanding accomplishments with special meaning to the Cadet Wing.

4.5. Cadet awards are established in perpetuity (through an endowment) or for a renewable 1- or 5-year period. All awards named in honor of a person or awards memorializing a deceased person are based on 5-year renewable terms. USAFA reserves the right to rename awards, as appropriate, after a 5-year period.

4.6. USAFA makes no cash awards, nor does it give as awards any form of commercial instrument such as bonds, shares of stock, drafts, or other similar instruments having present or future monetary value.

5. Categories and Presentation of Awards:

5.1. Organizational Awards. An award that recognizes a cadet squadron or group for outstanding unit achievement in academics, military training, athletics, extracurricular endeavors, or a combination thereof. Award winners are announced by the Superintendent each year by the second Wednesday in May (usually during a noon meal formation). The awards consist of trophies, plaques, and guidon streamers. Organizational awards are presented during the Organizational Awards Parade or during the Individual Awards Ceremony during graduation week and remain in USAFA custody for appropriate display. See Attachment 1 for specific titles and selection criteria.

5.2. Individual Awards. These awards recognize individuals who achieve excellence in academics, military training, or athletics. The award consists of a bronze casting of the eagle and fledglings sculpture with a name plate affixed to the base. In the case of Tapping Ceremonies, a name plate is affixed to an honor plaque. A cadet may receive more than one award but will receive only one sculpture with appropriate identification plates added to its base. Individual awards are presented during the Individual Awards Ceremony or Tapping Ceremonies during graduation week. See Attachment 2 for specific categories, titles, and selection criteria.

5.3. Specialty Awards. These awards recognize cadets who have distinguished themselves by outstanding performance and achievement in individual academic disciplines or specialized areas of interest. Specialty Awards are established for specific purposes and are presented at various times during the year. These awards are under the general jurisdiction of the CAC with the responsible departments or activities providing specific administration. Specialty Awards are limited to a maximum monetary value of $150 each and normally consist of a plaque, reference books, or some other form of appropriate recognition. See Attachment 3 for titles, selection criteria, and presentation details.

6. Selecting Award Winners. The department or activity with jurisdiction over the award selects the winner.

7. Financial Restrictions. Appropriated funds may be used to support administrative expenses of conducting the Cadet Awards Program and associated awards social functions as authorized by current Air Force directives.

7.1. The award donor bears all expenses, other than administrative, of acquiring and engraving gifts presented as awards.

7.2. The award donor or presenter bears all travel costs and subsequent expenses while at USAFA to attend a Cadet Awards presentation ceremony. Individual government or military agencies will bear all costs for personnel or other government officials who travel to USAFA on official duty in connection with a Cadet Awards presentation ceremony.

8. Tasking for USAFA Staff Agencies:8.1. 34 TRW/CC:

- 8.1.1. Provides one representative to the CAC.
- 8.1.2. Establishes selection criteria for all military training awards.
- 8.1.3. Identifies organizational and individual award winners to HQ USAFA/XPAC usually by 14 April of each year.
- 8.1.4. Provides two officers to the Graduation Week Committee to serve as primary project officers for the Organizational Awards Parade and the Outstanding Squadron Banquet.
- 8.1.5. Provides escort officers for visitors officially invited to attend the awards ceremonies.
- 8.1.6. Participates in awards presentations pertaining to military training, as necessary.

8.2. HQ USAFA/DF:

- 8.2.1. Provides one representative to the CAC.

- 8.2.3. Identifies individual award winners to HQ USAFA/XPAC usually by 14 April of each year.
- 8.2.4. Provides three event project officers to the Graduation Week Committee to assist HQ USAFA/XPAC with the Donors Luncheon, Donors Coffee, Individual Awards Ceremony, Awards Ceremony Reception, and the Former Disabled Cadet Award.
- 8.2.5. Provides escort officers for visitors officially invited to attend the awards ceremonies.
- 8.2.6. Participates in awards presentations pertaining to academics, as necessary.
- 8.2.7. Provides data (GPA, MPA, etc.) from Office of the Registrar (HQ USAFA/DFR) to all award granting organizations for their selection criteria.
- 8.2.8. Provides assistance with engraving on awards as requested by CAC.

8.3. HQ USAFA/AH:

- 8.3.1. Provides one representative to the CAC.
- 8.3.2. Establishes selection criteria for all athletic awards.
- 8.3.3. Provides an officer to the Graduation Week Committee to assist HQ USAFA/XPAC with the Individual Awards Ceremony.
- 8.3.4. Identifies individual award winners to HQ USAFA/XPAC usually by 14 April of each year.
- 8.3.5. Provides escort officers for visitors officially invited to attend the awards ceremonies.
- 8.3.6. Participates in awards presentations pertaining to athletic achievement, as necessary.

8.4. HQ USAFA/XP:

- 8.4.1. Provides one representative to the CAC.
- 8.4.2. Through the Development and Alumni Programs Division, provides administrative support to the CAC:

- 8.4.2.1. Coordinates, through the CAC, awards recommendations to the Superintendent.
- 8.4.2.2. Maintains written, permanent records of the proceedings of CAC meetings (signed by the chairperson and approved by the Superintendent) and files all correspondence about awards and proffers of gifts (accepted or rejected).
- 8.4.2.3. Serves as a member of the Graduation Week Committee and either oversees or acts as primary project officer for the Donors Coffee, Donors Luncheon, Tapping Ceremonies, the Individual Awards Ceremony and Reception, and the Former Disabled Cadet Award.
- 8.4.2.4. Coordinates with the Organizational Awards Parade project officer and the Outstanding Squadron Banquet project officer all aspects of the awards portion of the events.
- 8.4.2.5. Assists departments or activities responsible for selecting award winners throughout the year with specialty awards presentations.
- 8.4.2.6. In coordination with the Financial Management (10 ABW/FM), and the Defense Accounting and Finance Services (DFAS), manages the cadet awards accounts.
- 8.4.2.7. Ensures deposits and disbursements are in accordance with AFI 51-601, Gifts to the Department of the Air Force, annually balancing the program's ledger with 10 ABW/FM and DFAS records.
- 8.4.2.8. Monitors current financial status of awards.
- 8.4.2.9. Establishes and maintains contact with award donors, presenters, and recipients.
- 8.4.2.10. Communicates with award donors for continuation of award sponsorship.
- 8.4.2.11. HQ USAFA/XPAC, in coordination with the Directorate of Protocol (HQ USAFA/CCP) sends invitations to graduation week events to donors, presenters, and next-of-kin of memorialized persons.
- 8.4.2.12. Following graduation week awards ceremonies, provides donors, presenters, next-of-kin of memorialized persons, and recipients with photographs, ceremony memorabilia, and related publicity material.
- 8.4.2.13. Provides Institutional Research (HQ USAFA/XPR) a list of awards and winners, and inputs this information into the CAMIS database.

8.5. 10 ABW/FM:

- 8.5.1. Provides technical assistance as needed and accounts for all funds deposited and disbursed in the USAFA Gift and Trust Fund Account-Cadet Awards Program.
- 8.5.2. Provides financial reports to HQ USAFA/XPAC and the CAC.
- 8.5.3. Sends payments to Omaha, (OPLOC), to disburse payments to vendors and USAFA departments upon approval of the Chief, Gifts and Memorials Branch (HQ USAFA/XPAG).

8.6. HQ USAFA/JA. Provides legal counsel to the CAC.

8.7. 10 ABW/LG. Upon CAC request, assists in procuring gifts and trophies.

8.8. HQ USAFA/PA:

- 8.8.1. Prepares and distributes news releases about award winners.

8.8.2. Coordinates media coverage for the Outstanding Squadron Banquet, the Organizational Awards Parade, and the Individual Awards Ceremony and Reception.

8.9. 10 CS/CC. After USAFA/XPAC coordination of award selection criteria with appropriate selecting agencies, develops computer software applications for HQ USAFA/XPAC use to generate lists from which award winners are selected.

9. Form Adopted. AF Form 1206, Nomination for Award.

ORGANIZATIONAL AWARDS

A1.1. Organizational Awards. Presented to a cadet group or squadron to recognize unit achievement in academics, military training, athletics, extracurricular activities, or a combination thereof. HQ USAFA/DF, 34 TRW, and HQ USAFA/AH develop specific award selection criteria. Organizational award winners are typically announced by the Superintendent or his representative at the noon meal formation the second Wednesday in May, and awards are presented during the Organizational Awards Parade during graduation week.

A1.1.1. Outstanding Squadron Award. (OPR: 34 TRG) The highest unit-level award given, the Outstanding Squadron Award recognizes the squadron achieving the highest standards in all three areas of military, academic, and athletic excellence. The winning squadron will be presented the Outstanding Squadron Trophy, a plaque, and a blue streamer with gold lettering for permanent display. The winning squadron will also be honored at the Outstanding Squadron Banquet. Competition is based on an equal weighting of military, academic, and athletic performance. The following criteria are considered:

A1.1.1.1. Military. Scoring is based on the Military Proficiency Squadron Award.

A1.1.2. Academics: Scoring is based on the Academic Achievement Squadron Award.

A1.1.3. Athletics: Scoring is based on the Athletic Excellence Squadron Award.

A1.1.4. Selection. The top three squadrons based on point values will be forwarded to a selection board comprised of the Group AOCs and chaired by the 34 TRW/CV. The board's responsibility will be to ensure the winning squadron truly displays the core values necessary to become USAFA's top squadron. The board's ranking will be forwarded to the Superintendent for final selection.

A1.2. Outstanding Group Award. (OPR: 34 TRG) The Association of Graduates sponsors this award and presents the outstanding group with a trophy, plaque, and blue streamer with silver lettering for permanent display on its guidon. Selection is based on consideration of academic, military training, athletic achievement, and extracurricular activities. The collective efforts of all squadrons in the group determine the winner of this award. The selection criteria parallels the Outstanding Squadron Award criteria.

A1.3. Academic Achievement Squadron Award. (OPR: 34 TRG) The Air Education and Training Command sponsors this award and presents the winning squadron with the Academic Achievement Trophy. The squadron permanently displays a white streamer with blue lettering on its guidon. The award is presented to the squadron with the highest grade point average for the academic year.

A1.4. Athletic Excellence Squadron Award. (OPR: HQ USAFA/AH) The Association of Graduates sponsors this award and presents the winning squadron with the Superintendent's Athletic Excellence Trophy and a cardinal streamer with white lettering for permanent display on its guidon. The award is presented to the squadron with the highest performance in intramural athletics, intercollegiate athletics, physical fitness test (PFT), and aerobic fitness test (AFT). Selection is based on scoring for the Intercollegiate Athletics Squadron Award, the Intramural Athletics Squadron Award, and squadron PFT and AFT averages.

A1.5. Drill and Ceremonies Squadron Award. (OPR: 34 TRG) The late Mrs. Allan A. Sherlock and Friends sponsor this award and present the winning squadron with the Steinhardt-Sherlock Memorial Trophy and a gold streamer with blue lettering for permanent display on its guidon. The award is presented to the top squadron in the areas of drill and marching.

A1.6. Intercollegiate Athletics Squadron Award. (OPR: HQ USAFA/AH) The late Mrs. Frederick R. Gillen and the late Mrs. Marguerite Slezak Osborne sponsor this award and present the winning squadron with the Gillen-Slezak Memorial Trophy and a red streamer with white lettering for permanent display on its guidon. Squadron athletes earn points for participation and achievement in the intercollegiate program. Points are earned for the following:

A1.6.1. Participation:

A1.6.1.1. One point is awarded to each squadron member in each sport who remains on the team roster for the season. Cadets who sustain injuries and would not normally qualify earn one point upon the recommendation of the coach.

A1.6.1.1.1. Two points are awarded to each cadet who earns a junior varsity letter.

A1.6.1.1.2. Three points are awarded to each cadet who earns a varsity letter.

A1.6.1.2. Achievement:

A1.6.1.2.1. One point is awarded to individuals or members of a team selected to represent the Academy in a post-season championship competition.

A1.6.1.2.2. Two points are awarded to individuals or members of a team selected to represent the USAFA in national competition; for example, National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA), post-season bowl games, etc.

A1.6.1.2.3. Three points are awarded for being named All-American or for receiving an NCAA post-graduate scholarship.

A1.6.1.2.4. Four points are awarded to individual members of a team winning a conference championship. These points are in addition to points earned for representing the USAFA in conference competition.

A1.6.1.2.5. Five points are awarded to individual members of a team winning a national championship. These points are in addition to points earned for representing the USAFA in national competition.

A1.7. Intramural Athletics Squadron Award. (OPR: HQ USAFA/AH) The United Services Automobile Association sponsors this award and presents the winning squadron with the Malanaphy Trophy and a silver streamer with blue lettering for permanent display on its guidon. The award is presented to the squadron accumulating the highest number of intramural athletic points during the academic year.

A1.8. Leadership and Scholarship Squadron Award. (OPR: 34 TRG) The Air Force Academy Foundation (AFAF) sponsors this award and presents the winning squadron with the Leadership and Scholarship Trophy and a blue streamer with white lettering for permanent display on its guidon. The award is presented to the squadron having the highest percentage of cadets on the Superintendent's List.

A1.9. Military Proficiency Squadron Award. (OPR: 34 TRG) The Air Force Space Command sponsors this award and presents the winning squadron with the Military Proficiency Trophy and a purple streamer with white lettering for permanent display. The award is based on military criteria listed in AFCWI 90-101, Standardization/Evaluation Program.

A1.10. Core Values Squadron Award. (OPR: 34 TRW/CWC) This award is based on leadership and character development through the performance of community service. The winning squadron will be presented with a trophy, plaque, and streamer for display on its guidon.

Attachment 2INDIVIDUAL AWARDS

A2.1. Individual Awards. Recognize individuals who achieve excellence in academics, military training, and athletics. These awards are presented annually at the Individual Awards Ceremony or at Tapping Ceremonies during graduation week. Individual Awards include the Order of Graduation Award, Academic Awards, Military Awards, Athletic Awards, and Miscellaneous Individual Awards. Each winner receives an eagle and fledglings sculpture, with the exception of Miscellaneous Individual Awards.

A2.1.1. Order of Graduation Award. (OPR: HQ USAFA/DF) Recognizes the cadet attaining the highest rank on the Order of Graduation--the Top Graduate.

A2.2. Individual Academic Divisional Awards. (OPR: HQ USAFA/DF) Recognize cadets for outstanding academic achievement in majors within the four divisions. Each academic division recognizes the top cadet based on GPA, Major GPA, and MPA. All cadets earning a major within a division and having at least a 2.75 MPA will be considered for one of the following divisional awards: (1) Basic Sciences, (2) Engineering, (3) Humanities, and (4) Social Sciences.

A2.2.1. Outstanding Cadet in Basic Sciences Award. (OPR: Basic Sciences Division Chairman) Cumulative GPA=3.00; Major GPA=3.00; MPA=2.75.

A2.2.2. Outstanding Cadet in Engineering Award. (OPR: Engineering Division Chairman) Cumulative GPA=3.20; Major GPA=3.50; MPA=2.75.

A2.4.23. Outstanding Cadet in Mathematical Sciences Award. (OPR: HQ USAFA/DFMS) Cumulative GPA=3.20; Major GPA=3.20; MPA=2.75.

A2.4.24. Outstanding Cadet in Mechanical Engineering Award. (OPR: HQ USAFA/DFEM) Cumulative GPA=3.00; Major GPA=3.50; MPA=2.75.

A2.4.25. Outstanding Cadet in Meteorology Award. (OPR: HQ USAFA/DFEG) Cumulative GPA=3.00; Major GPA=3.20; MPA=2.75.

A2.4.26. Outstanding Cadet in Military History Award. (OPR: HQ USAFA/DFH) Cumulative GPA=2.80; Major GPA=3.00; MPA=2.75.

A2.4.27. Outstanding Cadet in National Security Studies Award. (OPR: HQ USAFA/DFPS) Cumulative GPA=3.00; Major GPA=3.40; MPA=2.75.

A2.4.28. Outstanding Cadet in Operations Research Award. (OPR: HQ USAFA/DFMS) Cumulative GPA=3.30; Major GPA=3.30; MPA=2.75.

A2.4.29. Outstanding Cadet in Philosophy Award. (OPR: HQ USAFA/DFPY) Minimum of three Philosophy courses. Cumulative GPA=2.50; Major GPA=2.50; MPA=2.75.

A2.4.30. Outstanding Cadet in Physics Award. (OPR: HQ USAFA/DFP) Cumulative GPA=3.00; Major GPA=3.00; MPA=2.75.

A2.4.31. Outstanding Cadet in Political Science Award. (OPR: HQ USAFA/DFPS) Cumulative GPA=3.00; Major GPA=3.40; MPA=2.75.

A2.4.32. Outstanding Cadet in Space Operations Award. (OPR: HQ USAFA/DFAS) Cumulative GPA=3.00; Major GPA=3.00; MPA=2.75.

A2.4.33. Outstanding Cadet in Western Language Minor Award. (OPR: HQ USAFA/DFP) Language minor in French, German, or Spanish is required. Cumulative GPA=2.70; Major GPA=2.80; MPA=2.75.

A2.5. Individual Military Awards. Recognizes the highest standards of leadership, character development, and military scholarship. These awards recognize outstanding cadet achievement and motivate all cadets toward excellence.

A2.5.1. Outstanding Military Performance Award. (OPR: 34 TRG) Recognizes the cadet attaining the highest Military Performance Average (MPA).

A2.5.2. Outstanding Wing Commanders Award (two awards). (OPR: 34 TRG) Presented to the cadet who has served as the Cadet Wing Commander during each academic semester. To receive the award, each cadet must complete his or her respective semester without removal from the position for any reason. The names of the Cadet Wing Commanders are inscribed on the Wing Commanders' plaque displayed with the Glenn H. Curtiss Trophy in the central lobby of Arnold Hall.

A2.5.3. Outstanding Cadet Group Commander Award. (OPR: 34 TRG) Presented to the cadet who has singularly distinguished himself as the outstanding cadet Group Commander in his respective leadership position either during the academic year or during the summer program. Criteria considered are GPA, MPA, PEA, club participation and on-season status, self-improvement efforts (additional training, awards, or recognition received), activities and organizational affiliations (off-duty involvement such as community or charity organizations), and specific accomplishments (accomplishments during which time the nomination is based).

A2.5.4. Outstanding Cadet Squadron Commander Award. (OPR: 34 TRG) Presented to the one outstanding cadet who has served admirably as a Squadron Commander either during the academic year or during a summer program. Criteria considered are GPA, MPA, PEA, club participation and on-season status, self-improvement efforts (additional training, awards, or recognition received), activities and organizational affiliations (off-duty involvement such as community or charity organizations), and specific accomplishments (accomplishments during which time the nomination is based).

A2.5.5. Outstanding Cadet Flight Commander Award. (OPR: 34 TRG) Presented to the outstanding cadet who has served admirably as a Flight Commander either during the academic year or during a summer program. Criteria considered are GPA, MPA, PEA, club participation and on-season status, self-improvement efforts (additional training, awards, or recognition received), activities and organizational affiliations (off-duty involvement such as community or charity organizations), and specific accomplishments (accomplishments during which time the nomination is based).

A2.5.6. Outstanding Cadet Element Leader Award. (OPR: 34 TRG) Presented to the outstanding cadet who has served admirably as an Element Leader either during the academic year or during a summer program. Criteria considered are GPA, MPA, PEA, club participation and on-season status, self-improvement efforts (additional training, awards, or recognition received), activities and organizational affiliations (off-duty involvement such as community or charity organizations), and specific accomplishments (accomplishments during which time the nomination is based).

A2.5.7. Outstanding Cadet Who Best Exemplifies the Highest Ideals of Loyalty, Integrity, and Courage Award. (OPR: 34 TRG) Honors the first class cadet who, in the board's judgment, best exemplifies the highest ideals of the Academy Core Values. This cadet should also stand above reproach in all areas. Each Group AOC may nominate two cadets for this category. The AF Form 1206, Nomination For Award, is due at the same time as the spring nominations (i.e., the first week in April).

A2.5.8. Outstanding Former Regular Enlisted Cadet Graduating with Highest Class Honors Award. (OPR: 34 TRG) Recognizes the graduating cadet standing highest among former enlisted persons with a minimum of 9 months regular enlisted time as well as a minimum Cumulative GPA of 3.00, Major GPA over 3.00 at the 3-1/2 year point, and minimum MPA of 2.80. Besides the GPA and MPA requirements, additional criteria include PEA, club participation and on-season status, self-improvement efforts (additional training, awards, or recognition received), activities and organizational affiliations (off-duty involvement such as community or charity organizations), and specific accomplishments (accomplishments during which time the nomination is based).

A2.5.9. Outstanding Cadet in Military Strategic Studies Award. (OPR: 34 EDG) Military Strategic Studies. Cumulative GPA=3.00; Major GPA=3.00; MPA=2.75.

A2.5.10. Outstanding Cadet in Military Doctrine, Operations, and Strategy Award. (OPR: 34 EDG) Cumulative GPA=2.80; Major GPA=3.00; MPA=2.75.

A2.5.11. Outstanding Cadet in Airmanship Award. (OPR: 34 OG) Recognizes the first class cadet who excels in multiple aspects of airmanship including soaring, parachuting, powered flight, and navigation. Selection is based upon the advice of the 34th Operations Group Commander (airmanship, soaring, parachuting, and navigation) and staff.

A2.5.12. Outstanding Cadet Aviation Instructor Award. (OPR: 34 EDG & 50 ES) Presented to the first class cadet aviation instructor who, throughout the academic year, demonstrates outstanding leadership and aviation skills. The selection is made by a board consisting of the 50th Education Squadron Commander, Operations Officer, and the Aviation 498 Course Director. The selection criterion considers outstanding contributions to the Cadet Aviation Instructor Program, classroom performance, flight evaluations and examinations, and recommendations from the 50th Education Squadron Aviation Instructors.

A2.5.13. Outstanding Cadet in Parachuting Award. (OPR: 34 OG and 98 FTS) Selection is made by the Parachute Flight Commander with the advice of the Parachute Flight staff, and confirmed by the 98 FTS Commander. Required course is Airmanship 496. Selection criteria:

A2.5.13.1. Excellence in the performance of parachute jumps.

A2.5.13.1.1. Finishing places in parachuting competitions considering individual and team events, the number of meets attended, and the quality of competition at those events.

A2.5.13.1.2. Performance at demonstrations considering difficulty of free fall event, difficulty of weather conditions, and the number of demonstrations performed.

A2.5.13.1.3. Performance during practice jumps (at USAFA and elsewhere) considering the number of jumps performed, performance during malfunctions, off DZ landings, and errors of judgment.

A2.5.13.2. Excellence in the performance of parachuting-related areas.

A2.5.13.2.1. Performance during check rides.

A2.5.13.2.2. Performance as a parachute instructor, especially time spent as an instructor during summer programs.

A2.5.13.2.3. Public relations, interactions with the public while at demonstrations, competitions, and at other times while representing the Wings of Blue.

A2.5.13.3. Scoring: Each sub-area, A2.5.13.1.1. through A2.5.13.2.3., will be worth 100 points, making a total of 600 points. Every eligible cadet will be scored in every sub-area before any points are totaled. The points will be awarded by the Flight Commander based on the recommendations of at least five Flight staff members. The cadet receiving the highest total score will be the recipient of the award.

A2.5.14. Outstanding Cadet in Powered Flight Award. (OPR: 34 OG and 94 FTS) Presented to the first class cadet who has demonstrated the best leadership, motivation, and flying skills in piloting powered airplanes at the USAFA. Cumulative GPA: Pass. Major GPA: Pass. MPA: Pass.

A2.5.15. Outstanding Cadet in Soaring Award. (OPR: 34 OG and 94 FTS) Presented to the first class cadet Instructor Pilot who demonstrates the best leadership, flying, and motivational skills in the soaring program. Required Courses/Majors: Airmanship 251 and Airmanship 461. Lowest grade accepted: Pass.

A2.5.16. Cadet Honor Committee Chairperson Award. (OPR: 34 TRW/CWC) Recognizes the graduating cadet who is the Honor Committee Chairman.

A2.5.17. (Added). Outstanding Cadet in Citizenship Award. (OPR: 34 TRW/CWC) Recipient will be selected by nominations both from within and outside of the Character Development Center staff. The award will be based on evidence of extraordinary citizenship of a graduating first class cadet. Citizenship will be based upon, but not limited to, community service, squadron leadership, chapel and/or USAFA Club involvement, and other ways in which a cadet has demonstrated character via service to others during his or her Academy experience.

A2.6. Individual Athletic Awards. (OPR: HQ USAFA/AH) Six individual athletic awards take into consideration the three mission elements of the Academy--military training, academic, and athletics. These awards are presented annually during graduation week at the Individual Awards Ceremony.

A2.6.1. Scholar-Athlete Award. Recognizes a first class cadet ranked in the top 10 percent of the graduating class who has made a significant contribution to the intercollegiate program and who has earned at least two varsity letters at the Academy.

A2.6.2. Athletic Leadership Award. Recognizes a first class cadet who has, by his or her character and conduct on the playing field, exemplified outstanding leadership.

A2.6.3. Athletic Excellence Award. Except in unusual circumstances, the winner will be a first class cadet who is outstanding in a sport or sports and has gained national recognition for the USAFA through athletic accomplishments in intercollegiate competition. This cadet may or may not have been considered as the most valuable athlete, but should clearly represent the individual cadet who possesses truly outstanding ability in a sport or sports. A cadet may be nominated for consideration in more than one sport; i.e., if the cadet is a football and baseball team member, he or she may be recommended by both coaches. Factors that weigh heavily on this selection are All-American status, individual national championships, or some form of national recognition for outstanding ability in a particular sport.

A2.6.4. Most Valuable Athlete--Women Award. Winner normally will be a first class cadet. Only in exceptional cases should an underclassman be considered. Presented annually to the woman intercollegiate athlete who has contributed the most to the intercollegiate athletic program. Factors that weigh heavily in the selection are (a) participation in more than one sport, (b) an example set by the individual through individual drive or leadership which would be worthy of emulation by the members of the cadet wing, and (c) having brought positive national recognition to her team and the USAFA. Such factors as being the recipient of All-American honors or being a national champion in NCAA competition will be considered, realizing that a separate award is given for the most outstanding athlete who possesses the individual, physical, and psychological prowess as a competitor.

A2.6.5. Most Valuable Athlete--Men Award. Winner normally will be a first class cadet. Only in exceptional cases should an underclassman be considered. Presented annually to the male intercollegiate athlete who has contributed the most to the intercollegiate athletic program. Factors that weigh heavily in the selection are (a) participation in more than one sport, (b) an example set by the individual through individual drive or leadership which would be worthy of emulation by the members of the cadet wing, and (c) having brought positive national recognition to his team and the USAFA. Such factors as being the recipient of All-American honors or being a national champion in NCAA competition will be considered, realizing that a separate award is given for the most outstanding athlete who possesses the individual, physical, and psychological prowess as a competitor.

A2.6.6. Outstanding Athletic Achievement Award. Recognizes a cadet who has demonstrated superior athletic achievement and who has brought significant recognition to the Academy.

A2.7. Most Valuable Player/Outstanding Cadet Awards. (OPR: HQ USAFA/AH) The remaining individual athletic awards are also presented annually during the Individual Awards Ceremony. These awards encourage a standard of excellence in athletics and physical prowess, combined with demonstrated leadership abilities. Nominees for the most valuable player awards must be members of the respective varsity sport who, in recognition of their inspirational play and contributions to the success of their teams, are selected by their coaches to be the most valuable players. The most valuable player and outstanding cadet awards are as follows:

A2.7.1. Most Valuable Baseball Player.

A2.7.2. Most Valuable Basketball Player--Men.

A2.7.3. Most Valuable Basketball Player--Women.

A2.7.4. Boxing Excellence.

SPECIALTY AWARDS

A3.1. Specialty Awards. Recognize squadrons or individual cadets who have distinguished themselves by outstanding performance and achievement in academic disciplines or specialized areas of interest. These awards are presented by the department or activity at various times throughout the year. The title of each award and the organization making the award follow:

A3.1.1. Organizational Specialty Awards:

A3.1.1.1. Group Military Squadron Award. (OPR: 34 TRW) The Association of Graduates sponsors this award and presents the winning squadron in each group with a green streamer with white lettering for permanent display on its guidon. The award is presented to the best squadron in each group. The awards (one per group) are normally presented the day following the announcement of the Outstanding Squadron.

A3.1.2. Wing Safety Outstanding Squadron Award. (OPR: 34 TRG) Presented each year to the cadet squadron that has made the most significant contribution to the Academy Safety Program, cadet safety awareness, prevention of serious mishaps, outstanding compliance with occupational safety, and fire prevention and healthy promotions within their area of responsibility. The winning squadron will be presented the Wing Safety Outstanding Squadron Award at an end-of-year ceremony. The award will consist of a streamer for the squadron guidon and a plaque for permanent display in the squadron.

A3.1.2.1. Each squadron will submit a package to the 34 TRG safety representative not later than 1 April of the academic year. The package will be no longer than two single-spaced pages and will include the narrative in four sub-areas. The format for the award package will be forwarded to the Group USR not later than 1 March.

A3.1.2.2. The first area, support of the Academy Safety Program, will include but not be limited to squadron safety programs; creation of safety newsletters; safety bulletin board programs; creation of TV, radio, or newspaper interviews that enhance Wing safety education; and in-squadron inspection schedules and results.

A3.1.2.3. The second area, Prevention or Reduction of Serious Mishaps, will include but not be limited to seatbelt campaigns; participation in base-wide safety programs (i.e., "Take a Bite Out of Crime," seatbelt dummies, interactive safety devices or displays, etc.); and studies and initiatives in discovery and elimination of unsafe practices in the Wing.

A3.1.2.4. The third area, Inspection and Compliance, will include but not be limited to results of staff assistance visits; no-notice dorm safety inspections; squadron safety continuity book maintenance; and documentation of holiday safety briefing attendance.

A3.1.2.5. The fourth and last area, Squadron Indicators, will include positive and negative statistics; safety award recipients (to include a short description of the award and the reason of the award); decorations of humanitarian service that result in a life or lives being saved; safety related fatalities or disabilities; DUI/DWI arrest or detentions (other moving violations) or traffic citations; and number of cadet ground safety accidents or injuries (intramural injuries, skiing accidents, etc.).

A3.1.2.6. Group USRs will submit one package for consideration by a panel who will judge the Wing Safety Outstanding Squadron recipient. The panel will include the 34 TRG Commander, Director of Safety (HQ USAFA/SE), 34 TRG USR, one at-large 34 TRG safety representative, and one at-large cadet squadron adjutant (cadet safety officer).

A3.1.3. Outstanding Basic Cadet Training Squadron Award. (OPR: 34 TRS) Presented annually to the Outstanding Basic Cadet Squadron that won first place in summer training competition. Selection criteria includes competitive sports, squadron drill competition, pistol qualifications, obstacle course, group reaction course, field day competition, marching to meals, room inspections, and military knowledge test.

A3.2. Individual Military Specialty Awards:

A3.2.1. Squadron Outstanding First Class Cadet of the Semester Award. (OPR: 34 TRG) This award recognizes the outstanding first class cadet in each squadron who exemplifies leadership by example through superior performance in the military, academic, athletic, and spiritual pillars of the Academy mission and for contributions which enhance unit pride and performance. All first class cadets, including exchange cadets, are eligible for the award. All four classes of each squadron will vote for their squadron winner. The Squadron AOC and MTL will screen each winner to ensure the selectees exceed Academy standards. Criteria considered are GPA, MPA, PEA, club participation and on-season status, self-improvement efforts (additional training, awards, or recognition received), activities and organizational affiliations (off-duty involvement such as community or charity organizations), and specific accomplishments (accomplishments during which time the nomination is based). Each semester the Squadron AOC will present the award winners with a statuette which portrays military leadership at an appropriate end-of-semester unit awards ceremony or dinner. The following awards will be presented on an annual basis: CWDS-25 (Redeye of the Year Award) and CWDS-34 (Philip Irish Leadership Award).

A3.2.2. Group Outstanding First Class Cadet of the Semester Award. (OPR 34 TRG) Recognizes the outstanding first class cadet in each Group who exemplifies leadership by example through superior performance in the military, academic, athletic, and spiritual pillars of the Academy mission and for contributions which enhance unit pride and performance. Criteria considered are GPA, MPA, PEA, club participation and on-season status, self-improvement efforts (additional training, awards, or recognition received), activities and organizational affiliations (off-duty involvement such as community or charity organizations), and specific accomplishments (accomplishments during which time the nomination is based). Each squadron can nominate one first class cadet, including exchange cadets, for this award. In order to compete at the Group level, the Squadron AOC or MTL will complete an AF 1206, on behalf of their squadron winner. A panel consisting of the respective Group AOC, Cadet Group Commander, Group Superintendent, and Cadet Group Superintendent will choose the Group winner. Each semester the Group AOC will present the award winners with a statuette which portrays military leadership at an appropriate end-of-semester unit awards ceremony or dinner.

A3.2.3. Squadron Outstanding Second Class Cadet of the Semester Award. (OPR: 34 TRG) Recognizes the outstanding second class cadet in each squadron who exemplifies superior leadership and support of the chain of command through outstanding performance in the military, academic, athletic, and spiritual pillars of the Academy mission and for contributions which enhance unit pride and performance. Criteria considered are GPA, MPA, PEA, club participation and on-season status, self-improvement efforts (additional training, awards, or recognition received), activities and organizational affiliations (off-duty involvement such as community or charity organizations), and specific accomplishments (accomplishments during which time the nomination is based). All second class cadets, including exchange cadets, are eligible for the award. All four classes of each squadron will vote for their squadron winner. The squadron AOC and MTL will screen each winner to ensure the selectees exceed Academy standards. Each semester the Squadron AOC will present the award winners with a statuette which portrays military leadership at an appropriate end-of-semester unit awards ceremony or dinner.

A3.2.4. Group Outstanding Second Class Cadet of the Semester Award. (OPR: 34 TRG) Recognizes the outstanding second class cadet in each Group who exemplifies superior leadership and support of the chain of command through outstanding performance in the military, academic, athletic, and spiritual pillars of the academy mission and for contributions which enhance unit pride and performance. Criteria considered are GPA, MPA, PEA, club participation and on-season status, self-improvement efforts (additional training, awards, or recognition received), activities and organizational affiliations (off-duty involvement such as community or charity organizations), and specific accomplishments (accomplishments during which time the nomination is based). Each squadron can nominate one second class cadet, including exchange cadets, for this award. In order to compete at the Group level, the Squadron AOC or MTL will complete an AF Form 1206 on behalf of their squadron winner. A panel consisting of the respective Group AOC, Cadet Group Commander, Group Superintendent, and Cadet Group Superintendent will choose the Group winner. Each semester the Group AOC will present the award winners with a statuette which portrays military leadership at an appropriate end-of-semester unit awards ceremony or dinner.

A3.2.5. Squadron Outstanding Third Class Cadet of the Semester Award. (OPR: 34 TRG). A3.2.33. Group Honor Chairperson Award. (OPR: 34 TRW/CWCH) Presented annually to the Group Honor Chairperson during a banquet in May.

A3.2.34. Outstanding Group Honor Representatives Award. (OPR: 34 TRW/CWCH) Presented annually to the Outstanding Group Honor Representatives during a banquet in May.

A3.2.35. Sailplane Instructor Pilot Upgrade Program Award. (OPR: 94th FTS) Presented along with the "G-wings" at the graduation ceremony.

A3.3. Individual Academic Specialty Awards. (OPR: HQ USAFA/DF, Individual Academic Departments as listed) Recognize cadets for outstanding achievement in various academic specialties offered at the Academy. To be considered, first class cadets and, in some cases, second class cadets must be involved in the academic specialty and meet the minimum cumulative GPA, majors GPA, and MPA requirements as specified for each award. Additional requirements are listed for each academic specialty award where applicable. Generally, the academic specialty awards are presented annually by the academic departments at department award ceremonies held at the end of the spring semester or during graduation week.

A3.3.1. Outstanding Achievement in Selected Astronautics Courses Award. (OPR: HQ USAFA/DFAS) Presented to the number one ranked cadet by course order of merit in each Astronautics course.

A3.3.2. Outstanding Achievement in Aeronautical Engineering Award. (OPR: HQ USAFA/DFAN) Presented to the top cadet in the core Aeronautical Engineering course. Cumulative GPA=3.30; Major GPA=3.30; MPA=2.75.

A3.3.3. Aeronautics Research Award. (OPR: HQ USAFA/DFAN) Cumulative GPA=3.30; Major GPA=3.30; MPA=2.75.

A3.3.4. Outstanding Cadet in Flight Test. (OPR: HQ USAFA/DFAN) Cumulative GPA=3.30; Major GPA=3.30; MPA=2.75.

A3.3.5. Aerodynamics and Flight Mechanic Award. (OPR: HQ USAFA/DFAN) Cumulative GPA=3.30; Major GPA=3.30; MPA= 2.75.

A3.3.6. Thermodynamics and Propulsion Award. (OPR: HQ USAFA/DFAN) Cumulative GPA=3.30; Major GPA=3.30; MPA=2.75.

A3.3.7. Aeropropulsion Design Award. (OPR: HQ USAFA/DFAN) Cumulative GPA=3.30; Major GPA=3.30; MPA=2.75.

A3.3.8. Outstanding Achievement in Aeronautical Design Award. (OPR: HQ USAFA/DFAN) Cumulative GPA=3.30; Major GPA=3.30; MPA 2.75.

A3.3.9. Selected Biology Courses Award. (OPR: HQ USAFA/DFB) Top Student Award: A certificate is presented annually to the top student in each biology course.

A3.3.10. Graduating Cadet in Health Professions Excellence Award. (OPR: HQ USAFA/DFB) A plaque is presented to the outstanding cadet in the study of neurosciences.

A3.3.11. Second Class Biology Major Award. (OPR: HQ USAFA/DFB) A plaque is presented to the outstanding second class cadet with a biology major.

A3.3.12. Double Helix Award for Molecular Biology/Genetics. (OPR: HQ USAFA/DFB) A plaque is presented to recognize outstanding achievement in the combined fields of molecular biology and genetics.

A3.3.13. Outstanding Behavioral Sciences Option Award. (OPR: HQ USAFA/DFBL) Presented to the outstanding cadet in the study of the behavioral sciences.

A3.3.14. Human Factors Engineering Award. (OPR: HQ USAFA/DFBL) Presented to the outstanding cadet in the study of human factors.

A3.3.15. Counseling and Human Development Award. (OPR: HQ USAFA/DFBL) Presented to the outstanding cadet in the study of counseling and human development.
